Arrest and Trial of Miss Jimmie Ashford—Her Brother Joseph Arraigned Before the Court Also, But After Trial was Released.

On Tuesday, the 1st day of Februaacross his spring branch, found the body of a female baby, which had the appearance of having been dead some days. The body of the unfortunate little waif was lying upon a board in the branch, and Ashford took it and deposited it about a foot beneath the surface of the ground for the time being. It being late in the afternoon when he found it, and the weather intensely cold, he told no one of his discovery till the next day, when he told his sister, Mrs. Hughes, and Mr. N. B. Wilson, his brother-in-law, both of county, on the 21st of November, 1875, whom fived in the same neighborhood with himself, but neither of them would go over to see it, and it was sevance Wilson to go over, and Mr. Lyles took the child up, and he and Mrs. Wilson examined it, but found no marks of violence upon it. Mr. Lyles, however, notified coroner Boswell, who summoned Dr. N. J. Raines, and held an inquest upon the body of the child. What the verdict of the coro-W. W. McCarty to J. W. Bannon ner's jury was, we have not learned, but suffice it to say, that 'Squire E. F. Tilford, deeming that there were reasonable grounds for believing that Miss Jimmie Ashtord, (sister to Joseph), was the mother of the child, and had concealed the birth of it, and that Joseph was particeps criminis, issued a warrant for the arrest of Miss Ashford, accusing her of having con cealed the birth of the child, and also CLOTHING. for the apprehension of her brother for complicity in the matter, and they were arrested and tried at Rosine, this county, Friday last, before justices Tilford and Alford, the Common wealth being represented by Mr. Sanderfur, County Attorney, and Sam. E. Hill appearing as counsel for the accused, and after the introduction of the proof on the part of the State. The attorney for the defense moved the court to discharge Joseph Ashford, becourt to discharge Joseph Ashford, be-of all descriptions, for which they pay the very cause of failure of proof, which motion highest market prices. They also do the largwas sustained, and Mr. Ashford was released from custody. The defense then waived further examination, and submitted Miss Ashford's case to the court, who held her in the sum of $500 bail for her appearance at the Circuit Court to answer the charge, and in default of bail she was on Saturday last, committed to jail. From those who were present at the corotrial, we understand that it was proven that Miss Ashford was suspected of
